ABOUT US

We started to produce and market natural and functional superfoods made from our native Peruvian biodiversity since 2012. We offer both final and bulk products in order to satisfy the needs of each of our clients, in a harmonized way with ethical principles. We seek to achieve true sustainable development by helping to improve the quality of life of everyone involved in our chain of value. We work for the health and well-being of people, all the way from native andean and amazonian communities we work with, to our customers.

We are passionate about our work (one of the keys to our success). We research and develop products with the purest and most powerful ingredients from Peru. We care about the environmental and social aspects linked to our products collected and grown in the Andean - Amazonian area, one of the last natural areas on our planet.

In addition to seeking to develop commercial activities, we also have activities planned with which we want to help in the social and environmental development of our country.

VISION

We seek naturalness in our processes and we are completely committed to the care and sustainable use of our biodiversity, which we understand as the diversity of all living things, from humans to microorganisms. Our most important objective is to change the paradigm of the export of raw materials towards the development of final products. As a result, AMAZON ANDES offers products with added value and in final presentation, with the aim of making our country recognized as a great supplier of high level and innovative products.

OUR PILLARS

HEALTHY

Our goal is to deliver the highest quality products to our customers, in compliance with international quality standards. We offer healthy products that help improve the quality of life of our final consumers.

SUSTAINABILITY

We care about the availability of the products in the long-term, which is why we handle forestal management plans and are committed to the well-being of our planet and ecosystems.

FAIR

We seek to achieve equity and a fair distribution of benefits with the local communities that supply us with our raw materials. Therefore, we work directly with farmers and native communities to generate an economical impact which may cause better life quality and better production conditions.

4
